Mr. Altgeld received a tremendous ovation convention, which is considered one of the greatest in the history of Illnois Democracy. Mr. Altgeld was not a delegate, and there were rumors that his Cook County enemies would freeze him out of the convention. His appearance in the hall was the signal for a demonstration of applause, which showed that whether in latform is a potent factor among Illinoi

Mr. Cable reached Springfield this morning and found that the slate was Harrison and Trude of Cook, and for the other two, M.

To-day, by a combination with the Cook Counwd and the friends of Congressman coveted honor, and as a result Mr. Dunlap who is William J. The platform to be adopted to-morrow here will be along the same lines, with no

But the enthusiasm broke loose when Mr Hurst spoke out boldly in favor of reaffirm ing the principles enunciated by the Chica go platform. Assistant Postmaster General's Natives of a South Sea Island Are Resignation Soon Will Be Announced. ~

Besides His Appointments of the Trouble Due to Selecting the Cuban Posts Officials, Heath's Business Connections Embarrass Mr. McKinley.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Washington, June 26.-First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath has tendered his resignation, or will do so in a few days. This information is based on the highest authority.

It is understood that the administration considers Heath too great a load to carry during the campaign. Ostensibly he is to retire from office to assume his former duties in connection with the literary bureau of the Republican National Committee. It is considered that the present time, just prior to the opening of the campaign headquarters, offers an opportunity for him to gracefully sever his connection with the administration.

Even previous to the disclosures of official crockedness in Cuba on the part of men apcointed through Mr. Heath's influence, the First Assistant Postmaster General was an embarrassment to the administration. The Cuban scandals were the cuimination of it. In the first place it was developed, incidentally, to the disclosures of favoritism on the part of the Treasury Department toward the National City Bank of New York, that the Seventh National Bank of New York, of which Fletcher Heath, a brother of the Assistant Postmaster General, is president, and in which Perry S. Heath was a stockholder, had been made the Government depository for the many millions of the United States Post Office

Fletcher Heath, it was discovered, was one of the directors of this company, and shortly after he was made a director the Cuban postal system began de-positing with the trust company.

EXPECT RUSSIAN COUP.

Copyrighted 1900 by the Associated Press Che-Foo, June 26 .- The officers of the British first-class cruiser Terrible assert that discord exists between the Russians and Anglo-Americans and say they believe the Russians are planning to break the concert and take possession of Pekin independently.

They assert that Vice Admiral Seymour's command lacked unison, the foreigners sulking because they were under British leadership. They bitterly denounce the Russians general conduct as uncivilized and barbarous and charge that the slaughter of peaceful Chinamen at Taku has aroused the otherwise passive natives against the foreigners. It is reported that the Russians are moving 30,000 troops toward New Chwang, where the Boxers are drilling in the streets with guns furnished by the soldiers of the Chinese army.

The signs of a murderous uprising by the Boxers, pirates and other bloodthirsty wretches with nothing but their worthless lives to lose and everything to gain by assassination and pillage have become so manifest that wealthy Chinese are hurrying away from its vicinity, taking with them their wives, families and valuables,

Viceroy Li Hung Chang has again been peremptorily ordered to go to Pekin. His enemies declare they will murder him before he can reach there. The Viceroy trusts Americans in this crisis. He says that they alone want no accession of territory and he places himself largely, almost unreservedly, in their hands. At a most important conference held to-day he reiterated this sentiment, adding an expression of his determina-
